HOUSE COCKTAILS

BAJAN RUM PUNCH

“One sweet, two sour, three strong, four weak”. If you don’t have a sweet tooth, ask for it easy on the syrup. Good at any time of day, every day.

Barbados rum, fresh lemon juice, sugar syrup & freshly grated nutmeg, over plenty of ice

Bds $20

We use natural agave syrup instead of sugar as it has a lower glycaemic index. Erythritrytol sweetener is also available

PINA COLADA

Delicious any time of day.

White Bajan rum, fresh pineapple, fresh coconut & agave syrup

Bds $25

THE DEBUTANTE

House Champagne with Passion Fruit Juice

Bds $50

THE DUCHESS

Champagne with a dash of Grenadine (natural pomegranate syrup)

Bds $50

CLASSIC LIME DAIQUIRI

One of the quintessential rum cocktails & much loved by Hemingway. Drink it the old way, with lime, or, if you must, add mango, pineapple or banana.

Light rum, fresh lime juice, agave syrup

Bds $28

MOJITO

A Cuban classic.

White rum, lime juice, agave syrup, mint, served in a highball, over crushed ice

Bds $25

We use natural agave syrup instead of sugar as it has a lower glycaemic index. Erythritrytol sweetener is also available

RUM SOUR

A house special and a terrific pre-dinner drink. This can also be made using Bourbon, Whisky or Pisco.

Rum/Bourbon/Whisky/Pisco, fresh lemon juice, egg white & agave syrup

Bds $23

COBBLERS COOLER

A legend. It packs a punch, easy does it.

Barbados rum, Grenadine, fresh banana, orange & pineapple

Bds $32

DARK & STORMY

*Dark spiced rum,
fresh lime juice, ginger beer,
lime to serve*

Bds $24

PLANTERS PUNCH

No planter would've got much done after a couple of these.

*Rum, fresh lime juice, orange juice,
pineapple, Angostura bitters &
freshly grated nutmeg*

Bds $23

PINK LADY

The prettiest of them all.

*Cointreau, gin, amaretto,
fresh lemon juice, agave syrup
& lots of crushed ice*

Bds $30

THE HALF NELSON

The old way, with nutritious coconut water straight from our own palms.

Rum of choice & fresh coconut water

Bds $26

*We use natural agave syrup instead of sugar as it has a lower glycaemic index.
Erythritol sweetener is also available*

THE PAINKILLER

Created in the 1970s at the Soggy Dollar Bar in the BVI, a sunny, fruity cocktail that asks for a bold Navy style rum.

Rum, Pineapple juice, orange juice, organic cream of coconut, ice, fresh grated nutmeg

Bds $26

CAIPIRINHA

Created by Portuguese sugar planters in Brazil, using the local rum, Cachaça.

Cachaça, lime, agave syrup, crushed ice

Bds $25

We use natural agave syrup instead of sugar as it has a lower glycaemic index. Erythritrytol sweetener is also available

VODKA OR GIN MARTINI

Most dashing, chic and effective of cocktails.

A very cold glass, a high-proof Russian vodka from the freezer, a drop of vermouth, a twist of lemon, no ice, stirred not shaken

Bds $28

MARGARITA

A prohibition era cocktail using the strong stuff from Mexico.

Tequila blanco, Cointreau, fresh lime juice, salt for serving

Bds $30

WHITE LADY

The favourite of Alan Godsall (the founder of the hotel & the terror of bar men the world over). Better here than anywhere else. No egg white in AG's recipe.

Cointreau, gin, amaretto, fresh lemon juice, agave syrup & lots of crushed ice

Bds $28

OTHER COCKTAILS

Cobblers 66

Bajan white rum, Cointreau, Blue Curaçao, agave syrup, fresh lime juice, with plenty of ice, shaken

Bds $25

Cosmopolitan

Vodka, cranberry juice, fresh lime juice, Cointreau, served with a twist of orange

Bds $26

Brandy Alexander

Cognac, fresh cream, Crème de Cacao, served straight up, grated nutmeg

Bds $36

Bloody Mary

Vodka, tomato juice, fresh lemon juice, Tabasco Worcestershire Sauce, horseradish

Bds $25

RUM

'The chief fuddling they make in the island is Rumbullion, alias Kill-Divil, & this is made of sugar canes distilled, a hot, hellish & terrible liquor.'
A Barbadian document of 1651.

By 1640 molasses, a by-product of the sugar industry, was being fermented & distilled producing a drink so rough it laid those who drank it 'asleep on the ground.'

This was known as Rummage, Redeye, Demon Water, Rambunctious, Pirate's Drink Rumbustion or Nelson's Blood. Today Rum is part of every day life, despite being only 21 miles by 14, Barbados has more than 1,500 Rum shops.

KINDS OF RUMS

Partly because there are no global rules governing the production of Rum & partly because differing raw materials are used, there are many differing varieties of Rum: some use sugar cane juice, some sugar cane syrup, some molasses & even molasses vary from light to dark to black or blackstrap.

Blackstrap Rich & dark, distilled multiple times from blackstrap molasses.

Cachaça Subject to strict national rules. Made from sugar cane juice & one of the sweetest Rums since Brazil's cane is exceptionally sugary.

Dark Created from caramelised molasses, multiple distillations & aged in wood casks.

Demerara Named after Guyana's Demerara River, not the sugar.

Gold Light amber in colour, aged in wood casks for a year or so.

Light, White or Silver The most simple iteration, rarely aged, clear.

Rhum Agricole Made from sugar cane juice, tends to have a fresh, grassy flavour. Produced in the French Caribbean under the strict guidelines.

Spiced Distilled, aged & combined with spices.

FERMENTATION, DISTILLATION & MATURATION

Fermentation methods & times vary too: In natural fermentation, the sugar product sits in open vats exposed to natural local yeast. Controlled fermentation only specific yeast strains are introduced to allow control over the consistency.

Distillation occurs in differing sizes & shapes of vats. Pot stills are generally used for Rums that will go on to age while column stills tend to be used for white or light Rums.

Many Rums undergo a second distillation, generally in oak barrels from Bourbon distilleries, lighter Rums for 1-2 years, darker Rums between 7-10 years. The maturation for a Rum is faster than for a Whisky due to the higher temperatures of the Caribbean which cause the liquor to assume the character of the wood faster than in colder climes.

*A carefully matured Rum has many layers of flavour & complexity as any Whisky, Bourbon, Scotch, or Cognac.
